> A BIG CONGREGATION .- The larges congregation that has assembled in the 'hurch of the Redeemer for many months, was present there on Sunday night to listen to the sermon of the Rev Mr. Gilbert on "Sunday Life in Cairo." The discourse was the most interesting and spirited preached in the city since Mr. Gilbert's sermon on "A Plain Pieture of Cairo Lite," which we daresay will not be forgotten soon by those who heard it.

> LUNCH! LUNCH!! LUNCH!!!--At Fred Hofheinz. The proprietor of Our Saloon will spread a grand lunch from 9 to 11 o'clock every night."The bill of fare is roast beef, mutton, veal, turkey, sour tongue, sour rabbit, pigs feet and No. 1 oyster soup; and every Sunday morning a No. 1 lunch at 10 o'clock, and a big glass of Cincinnati beer; all this for 5 cents. Come one, come all.

FRED HOPHETSZ. 2-20-6t

NEARLY A FIRE .- A little blaze occured in the roof of the building in which Rothchild's & Co's animals are being wintered, yesterday morning, but it was put out with but very little damage. While the fire was being put out, a German who keeps in repair the company's houses, while passing by the cage of a couple of leapords, had his arm chewed pretty severely by one of the beasts, but managed to get away before he was entirely gobbled up.

WHITTLE AND BLISS .- The great revivalists, Whittle and Bliss, who have been creating such a sensation among the unrighteous of Chicago and St. Louis arrived in this city yesterday. They are on their way to New Orleans, where they will proceed with their work of turning the unclean from the paths of wickedness. From the very imited length of time they spent in our city, it looks as if the gentlemen considered our sinners of little consequence and too far gone to make any effort in our behalf, so they went their way, leaving us to our doom.

All who wish to celebrate the the 29th. of February, will find a pleasant time at the Turner ball-See advertisement first column.

DEAD AND BURIED .- Mrs. A. C. Coleman died on Sunday night at twelve o'clock. Three years ago yesterday, the deceased was attacked with sickness, from which she never sufficiently recovered to rise from her bed, suffering during these long years untold agony, and from which death to herwas a welcome relief. Mrs. Coleman was an estimable lady, and her loss is mourned by all who knew her She was buried at Beach Grove cemetery rites to her memory.

A FURIOUS CANINE. - A yellow poodle, wned by a colored woman named Clay, iving on Washington avenue, between Tenth and Eleventh streets, went mad on Sunday morning, and by his furious antics kicked up quite an excitement in the neighborhood. He made a dive at Mrs. Clay while that lady was standing in her yard; she retreated into her kitcken and slamed the door in the animal's face. Finding himself shut out, he began anapping at the door and tore one of the pan- St. Louis. nels entirely out; then seized a broom standing near and started off on a plank laid across the sipe water in the yard, when he sell off into the water, and shuffled off this mortal coil without further ceremony.

THE MASKED SOCIABLE. - The sociable comes off at the St. Charles hotel this evening. The ladies in whose charge the management was placed have effect ed every preliminary for the event, which will no doubt be the grandest of the kind ever seen in the city. An immense number is expected to be present, the majority of whom; will go in masque. A profesional costumer has been engaged, who will arrive from St. Louis this afternoon. bringing with him a fine and elegant assortment of costumes which will be worn by the ladies and gentleman in attendance. Those who hold invitations to the sociable should not neglect to procure their tickets of Mr. Frank Robbins before going to the hall, as no tickets will be on sale there.

THE PARADE TO-DAY. - The Mard Gras promises to be very grotesque and amusing, and the ceremonies at the wharf, where King Comus is expected to arrive by special steamer, and where also, His Honor, Mayor Winter, will deliver up the keys of the city to His Majesty, with an appropriately eloquent and fitting speech, will be very interesting. After the scene at the wharf, the procession headed by King Comus, will parade the principal streets until they are satisfied, when they will disperse to meet again at Turner hall to-night, where they will revel until the break of the morn. To-day's festivities promise to be very amusing and pleasant, and will prove, no devee doubt, the innitiative step to a permanent Mardi Gras celebration in Cairo.

All who wish to celebrate the 29th. of February, will find a pleasant time at the Turner ball. See advertisement first column.

READ THIS .- Dan Hartman is selling off at cost. This is no dodge to induce people to buy, but Mr. Hartman means what he says. He desires to go out of last week. Wish him and his bride all the dry goods trade and will quit that the joy imaginable, but we should like to branch of his business as soon as his present stock can be disposed of. of the Mystic Krew," aided by a large number of citizens, will celebrate the 29th of February in an appropriate manner. A grand street procession and parade in which the Knights of the Mystic Krew, and other societies, with a large number fully deserved. of citizens, will participate. The procession will be the grandest ever seen in Cairo. The grand carnival will take up the line of march from Kluge's building, corner of Sixth street and Commercial avenue, at o'clock a.m., and march through the principal streets of the city. At the above named hour King Comus and his quards will enter the city, and receive the keys of the city from the hands of our worthy mayor. All those desiring to participate in the festivities of the occasion, and pay homage to his Royal Highness, the King, will assemble at the corner of Sixth street and Commercial avenue at ten o'clock, and be ready to start on march at the designated hour. The Knights of the Mystic Krew extend a cordial invitation to all societies and individuals to join in the celebration. The festivities will wind up in the evening with a grand ball at Kluge's hall.

RABBI BROWNE, -Of this distinguished Hebrew lecturer, who will deliver his celebrated lecture on "The Talmud, its Ethics and Literary Beauties," in this city on Friday night, the Indianapotis Sentinel speaks as follows: "The lecture delivered yestarday at the Y. M. C. A. Hall was in point of brilliant scholarship and fine liberal tone, the most remarkable one heard in this city for months. The speaker was Dr. E. B. M. Browne, a learned and well-known rabbi of the Jewish church, and his presence yesterday, by special invitation, at the rooms of the Christian Association should be looked upon as the dawn of a better day for people who think as well as pray. He said it was curious as being the first instance on record in this country where a rabbi of the Jewish creed has come to address a Christian audience on such a theme and from such a standpoint. He was formerly located at Peorla, Ill., later at Evansville, but is now traveling on a manner as ever before, with smooth liberal mission. He has no prejudice and shaves, fashionable hair cutting and expresses his views with the carnestness of an apostle and the liberality of a large minded scholar. While he does not accept Christ as a Redeemer, he believes most cordially in his doctrines and wants the bible retained in the public schools. The audience filled the hall, and was en-
